OUR COMMUNITY RED BANK, which gets its name from the red soil banks of the Navesink River, has a rich history going back to the 18th century. Our vibrant town is the gateway to the Two River Peninsula. Located in the business district, it sits beautifully along the magnificent Navesink River and offers the best of both worlds: natural beauty and historic architecture. One of the most famous buildings is the Galleria, originally known as the Eisner building. During WWI and II, the building was a textile factory producing most of the uniforms worn during the wars. If you look inside an old army uniform or a WWII Air Force leather jacket, you may find the Eisner label.

OUR FOCUS

In short, our focus is you—your financial goals, your legacy and your retirement.

We know that many people are concerned about outliving their money. Some want a measured, low-risk strategy, while others want to be more aggressive. Some want to structure a financial plan that leaves a legacy for their family while others just want a comfortable retirement.

Whatever your goals, we'll customize an investment strategy to meet them.

And if your goals change, the market fluctuates or different investment products become available, we'll give you individualized advice about how to protect your retirement.

As your family office, we'll be with you every step of the way—through all of life's changes—helping you secure and maintain a sound financial future.

CHANGE IS THE LAW OF LIFE. AND THOSE WHO LOOK ONLY TO THE PAST OR PRESENT ARE CERTAIN TO MISS THE FUTURE.

OUR BRAND STORY

Our office in Red Bank is in the old Mechanic School building known for its modern industrial feel. We were drawn to this location because the historic building captures the spirit of our city's commercial and manufacturing roots. At the same time, the river creates the perfect scene and story for River's Edge.

The Navesink River's function evolved over the years, from the 1800s when it was a port for steamboats that ferried workers into Manhattan, to present-day use as a source for recreation. During most of the year, the river is used for boating, crabbing, fishing, sailing, canoeing, kayaking, bird watching, swimming, and rowing.

Tony Frigoletto, our founder and managing partner, saw it as the ideal place for our office, and we honor its beautiful, distinctive shores in our name: River's Edge.

Like a river, one's financial life can often have twists and turns, but if you have a plan and are prepared for those turns, those powerful currents can bring you to your destination.

Tony and his River's Edge team have a proven track record of helping clients navigate whatever financial currents come their way so that their investments are protected and they can live the life of their dreams.
